Appointment of Airservices Australia CEO

The Chair of Airservices Australia, Air Chief Marshal Sir Angus Houston AK, AFC (Ret'd) reaffirmed today that the Board of Airservices Australia has undertaken a recruitment process for the CEO that is consistent with best practice in both the public and private sectors.

The process included the appointment of international executive recruitment firm Spencer Stuart and advertising the position of CEO nationally in late October.

The process was in accordance with all requirements of the Australian Government. The Board is confident that the process will identify the best candidate to lead the organisation.
